INTERNET
USERS' AWARD

The Talent in Mobility awards honour women and men working to nurture public transport and sustainable mobility across Europe. The awards are an extremely effective way of highlighting European actors who, at various stages of their career, deserve recognition from the profession as a whole. You almost certainly have some Talents to suggest to us from among those working with your enterprise, startup, local authority, institution or association!

How to get involved

Who can suggest candidates?

Anyone in the public transport or sustainable mobility sector in Europe may fill in an entry form to put forward one or more candidates, in one or more categories.

Different people from the same entity (company, local authority, association, etc.) are free to submit separate entries.

Who can I enter as a candidate?

Anyone working in mobility in any European country can be a candidate, whether they are part of an industrial company, operator, transport organising authority, local authority, service company, non-profit organisation, ministry or government department, etc. You can enter somebody as a candidate from within your own organisation or from another body.

Deciding on the Awards

The panel is composed of European journalists specialising in the transport sector. They have been chosen for their expertise and familiarity with the industry as a whole. They are independent of the Exhibition organisers.

The panel will make one award per category, and reserves the right to move a candidate from one category to another if appropriate. Internet users will also have the opportunity to vote for an award-winner from the shortlist published online on the Exhibition website: www.transportpublics-expo.com

Schedule

April 8, 2016:

Entry form submission deadline.

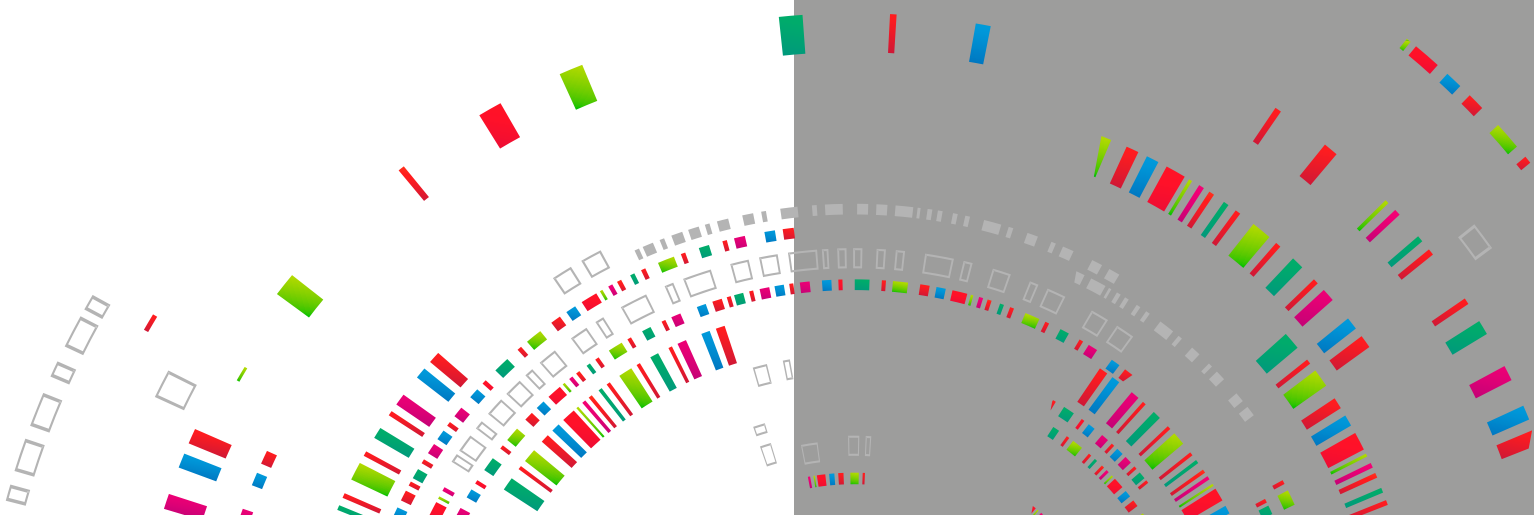

April 25 – May 11, 2016:

Online voting by internet users.

June 15, 2016:

Awards ceremony for the five winning “Talents” at Transports Publics 2016, the European Mobility Exhibition, in the presence of officials, members of the panel, partners, the European press and others.

For more details and the full rules, visit www.transportpublics-expo.com.

Best young "Talent"

This prize has been created to reward a younger player in the sustainable mobility sector who has proved themselves in the course of projects developed within their organisation. They will have shown themselves to be:

- creative,
- proactive,
- a good team player,
- enthusiastic.

Best manager

This prize will be awarded to a recognised manager or policymaker in the sector, who in addition to their technical skills used in their job, has put into play undisputed managerial qualities:

- coordinating all the internal and external stakeholders in a project,
- successfully conducting an outstanding and/or innovative project,
- demonstrating a high level of commitment to mobility.

Best project manager

This prize will be awarded to an individual (project manager, head of department, etc.) who has proved to be particularly outstanding in the creation, design and completion of a project.

They will have shown themselves to be:

- a leader,
- a good project manager,
- a good motivator,
- a good team leader.

Special career service award

This award will go to an individual who is well-known nationally or across Europe for services rendered to the sector throughout their career. The person must have made a significant, positive impact on the world of public transport through a distinctive contribution, product, practical achievement, advance, innovation, unifying action or other success. They must be wholeheartedly committed to sustainable mobility.

INTERNET USERS' AWARD

The winner of this prize will be determined by the outcome of a vote by professionals on the Exhibition website, www.transportpublics-expo.com. A shortlist of candidates will be presented for each category. The winner will be determined on the basis of the total number of votes cast for all categories.

Previous "Talent in Mobility" award-winners

It's been a great honour to receive this award, not only for me but for our employees too: it's an acknowledgement of their passionate work to improve the quality of public transport.
Gottfried Greschner, Init, Germany – Special career service award, 2014

This award represented recognition on the part of the entire profession. After eleven years in the job, it's enabled me to broaden my horizons and take on new responsibilities.
Fabienne Goudard, Région Rhône-Alpes, France – Best project manager, 2010

I've been working in the transport industry for 43 years now, and receiving this prestigious award was a very proud moment for me. I really do encourage everybody in the industry to take part.
Derek Lott, Bournemouth Transport, Great Britain – Special career service award, 2012

I really encourage everybody involved in getting projects up and running to take part in the Talents awards; they are a unique opportunity for people's work to receive the recognition it deserves.
Jon Pike, Garrick House, Great Britain – Best project manager, 2010

This award is an acknowledgement of the positive impact our work has on the development and modernisation of public transport. I am very proud to have it on display; it's another source of motivation for me and for all my staff as we go about our jobs.
José Manuel Silva Rodriguez, Companhia Carris de Ferro de Lisboa, Portugal – Special career service award, 2010

The world of transport offers an incredible opportunity to build cross-cutting careers spanning a wide range of business lines: organising authorities, operators, and manufacturers. For young professionals such as myself, this award is a sign of confidence on the part of the sector as a whole.
David Herrgott, Fer de France, France – Best young "Talent", 2014

Taking part in the Talent in Mobility Awards has been a welcome break from professional routine! It's a way of taking stock of your career and developing a taste for sharing your experience and knowhow with colleagues worldwide.
Ezio Castagna, CTM S.p.A., Italy – Best manager, 2014

This prize came as a welcome reward for several months of very hard work to launch highly innovative services. It has helped draw attention to the work my team does.
Benjamin Weyer, SNCF Proximités, France – Best young "Talent", 2010
